FUERTES DELIVERS LECTURE ON BIRDS

First Myers Lecture Given in Commons Dec. 5—Lecturer Imitates Bird Calls and Songs—Many Remarkable Lantern Slides

Louis Agassiz Fuertes, the noted naturalist and bird artist of Ithaca, delivered the first Myers lecture of the year in the Hall of Commons last Monday evening before a large and appreciative audience. In addition to the explanation and pictures of the birds, Mr. Fuertes imitated their calls and their songs. The lantern slides that illustrated the lecture were made from paintings by Mr. Fuertes and by photographs taken by Dr. Arthur Allen of Cornell University. The photographs were most unusual, showing the birds in the nest, feeding, and even fighting.

Many people think of bird music as real music, said Mr. Fuertes, but it is impossible to get the exact song of the bird, with the possible exception of those whose songs are short. Only the main frame of the long ones can be attempted. It is not necessary to be musical to study the music of bird calls, as bird music is in no way exacting. Bird songs should be thought of as conversation or as the laughter of a group of children playing. Bird music plays a very important part in the life of a bird. All birds live in the course of a year what may be termed a complete cycle.

The first illustrations were of birds most commonly seen by the average observer. The robin's song is the "question and answer" type, delightfully imitated by Mr. Fuertes. Had Wordsworth, Keats, and Shelley known of the bluebird, Mr. Fuertes said that it surely would have taken the place of the skylark in all their poems. The red-eyed vireo, it was mentioned, sings on the average of once every second from daylight till dark.

According to Mr. Fuertes, there is only one record of the cardinal in Ithaca and that bird appeared exactly at a definite time each day. The song of the oriole is the one that people are always comparing to the opening bars of the latest popular song. The mockingbird is the best-known American singer, probably because it makes the most noise, but the brown thrasher is just as good a singer. The yellow-breasted chat is the real mockingbird, for it imitates the songs of all the birds.

The nocturnal birds have the most beautiful voices, it was stated, possibly caused by the isolation that night gives. Mr. Fuertes related some interesting personal experiences with owls. Owls do most of their hunting by their hearing and can see in the daytime, contrary to the belief of most people.

At the close of the lecture, Mr. Fuertes explained the correct way of caring for the birds in the winter, in regard to feeding and housing. The naturalist showed that anyone could have birds in his yard, if he would only tempt them and then provide for them. A reception for Mr. Fuertes was held in Commons immediately after the lecture.

There will be a meeting of Life competitors Wednesday after chapel.

HOCKEY SQUAD PRACTICES

The hockey team had its first outdoor practice during the past week when the thermometer went low enough to make a thick coating of ice on the milk station pond. At these practices several of the new men showed up very well. With the four letter men of last year's team as a nucleus, it is hoped that another winning team will be built up.

The work upon the new athletic building is proceeding rapidly, and it is possible that the rink will be flooded by the end of the week. If the weather conditions permit, the hockey squad will probably report back from Christmas vacation early to secure additional practice.

CORNELL DEBATERS MEET HAMILTON HERE FRIDAY

Alfange, Martin, and Hartness Compose Hamilton Team—Cornell Debates Affirmative of Question.

The intercollegiate debate with Cornell will be held Friday night at eight o'clock in the Chapel. Dr. Ferry will preside. The proposition for debate is "Resolved, that the several states should establish courts of industrial relations similar to that of Kansas". The Cornell team, which upholds the affirmative of the proposition is composed of I. T. Turman, '24, C. Kirchner, '24, and G. O. Wehle, '23. Hamilton will be represented by Dean Alfange, Clement G. Martin, and Harold Hartness, all of the senior class. Among the judges are Rev. Philip S. Bird of Utica, and Dr. Alexander C. Flick, professor of history at Syracuse University.

DEPARTMENTAL CLUBS HOLD MEETINGS

History Club

The History Club held its regular meeting at the Beta Kappa House on Friday, December 9. The topic for discussion was "Ancient Historians" and talks were given by Pitkin, '22, and Davies, '23. PI DELTA EPSILON RUNS NATIONAL CONTEST

Journalistic Fraternity Announces Subject for 1921-22 Intercollegiate Editorial Contest—Local Chapter in Charge.

In order to arouse the active support of every male undergraduate in the United States and Canada to Liberal Arts courses, and to refute the popular claim that a four-year cultural course is time misspent, Pi Delta Epsilon, Honorary Collegiate Journalism Fraternity, has announced as the subject for its 1921-22 Intercollegiate Editorial Contest, "The Practical Value of a Cultural Education".

President Warren G. Harding, a member of Pi Delta Epsilon, and former editor and present owner of the Marion (Ohio) Star, will represent the fraternity in the presentation of awards. Three prominent metropolitan newspaper editors will act as final judges.

Nationwide publicity will be given the 1921-22 contest through the Associated Press and other news-gathering media, and the prize-winning editorials will be released in mimeographed form, simultaneously, to every college, university, and daily metropolitan newspaper in this country and Canada, together with photographs of the winners.

This year, Pi Delta Epsilon's contest will be double in scope. A local contest will be conducted at every college and university, and each local first prize winner will receive the Certificate of Merit of the fraternity, and will be eligible to submit his editorial in the national contest. Three prize winners in the national contest will receive the Pi Delta Epsilon medals.

The local chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon has been named by the Editorial Committee of the fraternity to supervise the contest at Hamilton. They will act as a committee in selecting local judges, and will forward the winning editorial, by special delivery, to the fraternity's Contest Committee, care of P. C. Pack, 6415 Greenwood Ave., Chicago, Ill. This editorial will, then, automatically identify the winner of a Certificate of Merit and will represent that particular institution in the Intercollegiate contest.

(1) Contest will open Dec. 3, 1921, and will close Feb. 15, 1922, at midnight; (2) Editorials submitted may not exceed 500 words; (3) Type, or write legibly on one side of sheet only; (4) Write an assumed name in upper left corner of each sheet; (5) On the face of an envelope, write this assumed name, enclosing a sheet of paper on which is written your own name, age, home city, class, and local address, and telephone number, and seal envelope, pinning or clipping it to your local editorial.

All men desiring to enter editorials in Life's editorial contest should submit them to the editor-in-chief before noon on Tuesday, December 20.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS VAUDEVILLE

Plans are being made for a vaudeville show to be given under the auspices of the College Y. M. C. A. for the benefit of the Hamilton-in-China fund, some time in January in the Hall of Commons. Three of the acts have been worked up, and it is the intention of the committee appointed by the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, to call for one act from each of the crowds. This committee consists of Howland, '22, and Heffron, '23.

Y. M. C. A. shows in the past have held a place among the chief activities of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, and it is expected that this year's show will be as successful as those of the past have been.

FORTY MEN REPORT FOR BASKETBALL

Over forty men, selected by Coach Prettyman and Captain Stern during the class games of the previous week, reported for basketball practice last Monday. These men have been divided up into four squads of about ten men each, and during the past week have been at work to master the fundamentals of the game.

With Captain Stern, Garner, and Doane as a nucleus, the coach expects to develop a good combination before the opening game with Colgate on January 11.

Several new teams appear on this year's schedule. Brown, Oberlin, Wesleyan, Clarkson, and Syracuse are all being played for the first time this season.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL PASSES SCHEDULES

Appropriations Made for Coming Year—Basketball to Have Twelve, Baseball Eleven Games on Schedule—Twenty-one Football Letters Awarded.

The Executive Council held a meeting last Thursday evening to pass upon schedules and appropriations for the coming year. Several matters were discussed which will be brought before the undergraduate body at the December meeting.

Monaghan, '22, manager of basketball, submitted a tentative schedule containing thirteen games. Twelve were approved and an apportionment of $1560 was granted. The schedule:

Jan. 11, Colgate at Hamilton.
13, Rochester at Clinton.
21, Syracuse at Syracuse.
Feb. 4, Union at Schenectady.
7, Clarkson at Clinton.
10, Amherst at Amherst.
11, Wesleyan at Middletown.
17, Oberlin at Clinton.
18, R. P. I. at Clinton.
Mar. 1, Colgate at Clinton.
4, Rochester at Rochester.
10, Brown at Clinton.

Upon the recommendation of Manager Getman, '22, the allowance for football was increased from $3,329.22 to $3,827.36. Getman also read a report for the past season.

The Council approved the apportionment of $1500 for the hockey department. Manager Bennett presented a tentative schedule for the coming season, but this was not approved as there were certain necessary modifications to be made. The schedule will probably consist of eleven games.

Manager Cannon, '23, reported on the past cross-country season.

Loveland, '23, presented the 1922 baseball schedule and obtained an apportionment of $8,743 for the baseball department. The approved schedule is:

April 27, Rochester at Rochester.
May 6, Clarkson at Clinton (pending).
13, Union at Clinton.
17, Syracuse at Clinton.
20, Williams at Williamstown.
21, Cornell at Ithaca.
26, Rochester at Clinton.
27, R. P. I. at Troy.
30, Union at Schenectady.
June 3, Colgate at Clinton.

Colgate at Hamilton (pending). As there is still doubt whether the new baseball diamond will be completed in time to permit early spring practice, a committee consisting of Mr. Prettyman, Loveland, '23, and Davis, '22, was appointed to look into the matter of finding a suitable baseball field for practice.

The Council also passed on the following list of men who are to be awarded an "H" in football: Fowler, Farrand, Davis, Fletcher, Pitkin, Kelly, Spice, Eckler, White, Reeder, Burns, Macey, Pope, Stern, Evans, Price, C. Warren, McGiffin, Brush, Hamilton, Farrell. Numerals were granted to Doyle, Towne, Monaghan, Fuess, D. Jones, Chase, Holley, Flagg, A. Warren, Raitt, Clements.

The men earning their numerals in soccer were Nichols, Woods, Forshay, Hallock, Heffron, Marlow, Palmer, Willard, Brownell, Moore, Chevreux, and J. B. Turner.

Books and the Faculty

Not often do we toss our tomahawk at the faculty.

There has recently been added to the laws by which we are governed an edict in regard to our use of the College Library. Books may be drawn for the usual period of two weeks with the privilege of being renewed at the end of that time. A notice is sent out at the end of the second week stating that the book is due and should be returned at once. If the book is not returned at the end of forty-eight hours a second warning notice is issued. Then after twenty-four hours more, if the book still does not appear, the offender who has the book in his possession is forbidden to attend any classes until he shall have returned the book.

Several years ago the system of fines previously in vogue was abolished, and the men were placed upon their individual honor to return the books when they were due, so that no one of their fellows should suffer through failure to get the book or books in question. This honor system worked very well for a few years. The S. A. T. C. marked what may be called the beginning of the downfall of the system. From the fall of 1918 things went steadily to the dogs so far as punctuality in returning books was concerned.

Obviously and unfortunately some ruling was necessary whereby the men should be gently stimulated to return the books promptly. Their general failure to do this was taken as an indication of an increasingly prevalent tendency toward laxity in meeting matters that required punctuality.

The faculty acted. Self-admittedly they were at a loss as to how to meet the situation.

To the undergraduate mind the ruling which they eventually produced miscarries woefully in its application. It is easy to see that a man by failing to return books should be excluded from the use of the Library. It is not easy to see that a man should for that reason be excluded from attending classes.

From various sources comes the hint that the faculty would be eager to receive a better solution of the problem coming from the undergraduates; that they are watching the reception of the ruling by the students.

We have heard many opinions expressed upon this matter. The prevalent one seems to be that there should be a return to the old system of fines. Let there be a fine of, say, twenty-five cents a day, for every day after the second notice is sent out that the book is not returned. Let the offender pay the accumulation to the bursar with the regular term bill. But let the edict of exclusion from classes be revoked.

JOHN EDWARD FROST, '71, DIES IN TOPEKA, KANSAS

Deceased Was President of General Association of Alumni—Formerly Member of Board of Trustees.

Hamilton alumni everywhere, undergraduates, and all friends of the College will experience a genuine sorrow at the news of the recent death of John Edward Frost, '71, in Topeka, Kansas. He had always been closely in touch with his Alma Mater and at the time of his death was president of the General Society of Alumni. As a recognition of his character and ability he held an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws conferred on him by the College in 1908. In 1914 and 1915 Mr. Frost served as a member of the Board of Trustees.

Born April 22, 1848, in Rome, N. Y., Mr. Frost entered Hamilton with the class of '71. One year after his graduation he was admitted to the bar at Galesburg, Kansas. His ability won him rapid promotion in his profession and a few years later he became general legal counsel for the Atchinson, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad. Then in 1882 his duties as the head of the legal affairs of the railroad led him to move to Topeka. There he lived until his death. Six years after taking up his residence in Topeka, Mr. Frost severed his connection with the railroad and launched out into an extensive real estate business for himself. In real estate, as in the legal profession, Mr. Frost was recognized as a leader; his friends, however, could never persuade him to enter politics. During the latter years of his life he retired from business to some extent. His death deprives the alumni of a president of the Association and the College of a son who has brought her honor. Mr. Frost was a member of the Chi Psi fraternity.

COMMUNICATIONS.

[All signed communications received will be printed. However, the Editorial Board is not responsible for facts stated or opinions expressed.]

To the Editor of Life:

For two or three years past, the Alumni Council has been considerably disturbed over reports its members have received concerning lowered scholarship in the college. At first, we attributed the condition to the natural results of the war and the S. A. T. C. demoralization; but if the reports we receive are correct, the condition does not improve much.

In our discussions concerning the matter, we have wondered whether or not the increase in the number of "college activities" may not account in part for a diminished attention to the real work of the college. However this may be, the multiplication of these "activities" is attracting a great deal of attention among the alumni, who, I am frank to say, are inclined to question the usefulness of many of these new things—which must involve increase in expense and must detract from other things which,

of old at least, were regarded as of first importance.

I don't know whether the subject has been discussed a great deal among the undergraduates. The Council feels that it might well receive attention both within college and out of it. Perhaps the fears expressed are groundless. At any rate, the Council should like to have the facts from an authoritative source. If a complete list of the "college activities" should be published it might serve to draw the thoughtful attention of the undergraduate body to a matter that concerns it vitally; and which it, in the last analysis, must handle of its own accord.

On behalf of the Council, therefore, I ask you to prepare and publish in the columns of Life at the earliest convenient opportunity, a complete list of the present-day "activities" of the college, great and small, in order that we may all have before us the facts. After that we can discuss the matters referred to more intelligently.

Yours sincerely,
Richard C. S. Drummond,
Secretary, Alumni Council.

CHARLES S. BUNDY, '54, RECEIVES FINE TRIBUTE

Alert Civic Worker in Washington,
D. C., at Age of 91—Services
Lauded—Gift Presented.

The following is from a clipping in the Washington Post of Wednesday, December 7, concerning Charles S. Bundy, '54:

Columbia Heights turned out last night to do honor to Judge Charles S. Bundy, who for more than 25 years has been actively engaged in the interests of that community and who, even now at the age of 91, rarely misses a meeting of the citizens' association. More than 200 neighbors and friends of Judge Bundy crowded into the parish hall of St. Stephen's church and took part in the simple exercises arranged by a special committee of the Columbia Heights Citizens' Association as a testimonial to Judge Bundy.

After the business session, President Harley V. Speelman recognized Frederick J. Rice, chairman of the Bundy testimonial committee, who presented a resolution describing Judge Bundy's many contributions to civic service during the quarter of a century he has been identified with the association and particularly during the nine consecutive years he was president.

In seconding the resolution, which was unanimously adopted, William B. Todd, himself a former president of the association, told of the civic accomplishments of the venerable citizen.

The association then presented a handsome clock to Judge Bundy.

1923 HAMILTONIAN BOARD COLLECTING COPY RAPIDLY

The Hamiltonian Board under the supervision of Editor-in-chief Palmer is making an effort to have most of the material for the yearbook in the hands of the printers before the Christmas holidays. Sophomores and Freshmen are now writing their class histories in the composition classes. The best history will be used in the Hamiltonian. Manager Willard will personally take part of the copy to the publishing company in Milwaukee.

Manager Willard states that, although the first of the group pictures taken in the evening at the Library turned out rather badly those taken this past week in the daytime have been exceptionally good. It is hoped to include in the Hamiltonian of this year individual snapshots of the seniors if the necessary arrangements can be made with the publishers.

The price of the annual will be four dollars.

LIBRARY RULING

Attention of the student body and all other patrons of the college library is called to the following revision of library rules which were adopted by the Faculty at the meeting of December 5. These new rules became effective this morning.

1. Dictionaries, encyclopedias, atlases, and other books reserved for certain courses must not be taken from the reading room. Periodicals, bound or unbound, may be drawn for two weeks and may be renewed for a like period if not wanted by other readers. On recommendation of an instructor particular books may be borrowed for a longer specified time.

2. Overdue notices are sent promptly. If an undergraduate thus notified does not return the books within two days of the date of the notice a second notice is sent at a charge of twenty-five cents for each volume detained. One who does not return books within twenty-four hours after the mailing of the second notice is excluded from classes until he complies with the rules, and may not receive excuse for absence so incurred.

COMMUNICATION

[All signed communications received will be printed. However, the Editorial Board is not responsible for facts stated or opinions expressed.]

To the Editor of Hamilton Life:

On Friday evening of this week Hamilton will debate Cornell in the College Chapel. Debating a large institution of high reputation in this field of activity reflects, in my opinion, just as much credit to the college as an athletic contest with a big university; and it should be remembered that the arranging of such a contest is fully as difficult.

The Cornell team is coached by a Hamilton man, Drummond, '06, and will come to the Hill mindful of Hamilton's record and traditions in this particular form of intercollegiate activity. It is incumbent not only upon the three men of the team to uphold the reputation of Hamilton but upon the entire student body, which should turn out and support the team just as loyally as it does in an athletic contest.

Last year Rutgers came to Clinton expecting to witness the Hamilton debate spirit of which they had heard so much. About forty Hamilton men attended the debate, and this not only disappointed the expectations of Rutgers but discouraged and stifled the spirit of our men who had done a great deal of searching work in preparation.

Cornell will come here Friday, Dec. 16, expecting to realize all that they have heard of Hamilton. Let us not disappoint them!

Carpe Diem

There's nothing like being high-brow. Take Getman, he of the golf-sock, in Greek Art. "Yes, professor, Myron made a bronze bull that was so lifelike it fooled all the cattle." Surely a little learning is a dangerous thing! And then there's our Prex. "All those who wish to meet the lecturer will do so after it is finished."

Seen' as how the Seniors never got a reception from Prex, we'd suggest that a new custom be started and Cal entertain them this year. A pleasant evening could be passed discussing "The Department", and Rog Williams could finish the story he started and didn't finish in his last debate.

Life told us about '21 last week, and so Carpe is' moved to prophecy about '22 a year hence—and ah, we can see Bennett disdainfully tossing coal on a Lake Erie super-dread-nought, accompanied by musical plunks from the nautical Macey. Miller is working for the bootlegging firm of Culver and Westbrook, Inc., and Kelly has finished his autobiography. Howland plays the seventh veil in Pavlova's famous dance, and Tom Pope labors in a Chicago wet-wash, and poses for Djer-Kiss in the evening. Alfange is taking his sabbatical year, and Sherman has followed his famous predecessor, Ponzi. Of the lot, Clem Martin is the only one who has committed matrimony—he always did believe that two is better than one, and a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush.

Sure and the good old days have gone to pot, not a Slimmer has yet appeared with a sheepskin coat, and as yet there hasn't been a Freshman dent made in the stately elms in front of the Beta Kap House, thereby gaining a long vacation. What's the matter, anyhow?

We have, after long examination of the evidence, come to the conclusion that even our honored profs indulge in the frivolous sports now and then. To wit, the case of a professor who had as a bookmark an advertisement for a Utica burlesque theatre. (Nobody else could have left the damaging evidence, since it was the first time the volume had been drawn.) And to cap the climax, the name of the book was "Present Philosophical Tendencies."

Last week we sublet the column, hodjalikeit? And we're ready to sublet it again—what we mean is, that anyone who has anything to air can do so here, if there aren't too many ads, and the ed. will stand for it. Just concoct your line and hand it in, then let Nature take its course.

—Every loyal alumnus should subscribe for Hamilton Life.

DR. FERRY GIVES ADDRESS

At their regular morning assembly Monday, December 5, the students of the newly established Utica Country Day School listened to a talk by President Ferry in which he warned them against making social correctness, athletics, or pleasure the chief interests of life. He urged them rather to make thoroughness of preparation a recognized characteristic of the school so that its graduates may be considered as desirable entrants by colleges throughout the country.
